WEST TOUGHENS POLICY LINE FOR NEGOTIATIONS WITH REDS OVER BERLIN

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western powers appeared today to be toughening their policy on negotiations with the Soviet Union over the Berlin crisis.

As the NATO foreign ministers meeting went into its second day here, the United States, Britain and France were reported shelving some proposals which could be construed as offering possible concessions to the Soviets.

The United States, meanwhile, pledged anew the full use of its nuclear missile and bomber striking force in defense of western Europe and North America if military action ever became necessary.

Ike's Address At Gettysburg Important

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, in a foreign policy speech Saturday at Gettysburg, Pa., will declare there is need for better understanding of the threat to freedom from atheistic dictatorship.

The White House announced this theme today just before Eisenhower left Washington for his farm on the edge of Gettysburg. The President took off in a Marine helicopter. Mrs. Eisenhower planned to follow by automobile.

Eisenhower will speak Saturday at 10:30 a.m. EST at the Gettysburg College spring convocation. Press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower's address is entitled "The Importance of Understanding."

The White House previously had said the Eisenhower speech would be an important one dealing with the international situation. Indications are that Eisenhower will deal to some extent with the Berlin crisis in terms of a potential threat to freedom.

Eisenhower plans to stay at his farm for the weekend, the White House said. He probably will return to Washington late Sunday.

Dean of Students Smoke Victim in Ohio Monastery

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The dean of students at the College of Stuebenville was overcome by smoke early today in a fire at the Holy Spirit Monastery where the college president died in a fire on Monday.

The Rev. Francis Flannagan, 40, was in good condition at Gill Memorial Hospital after being rescued from his bedroom in the monastery.

Father Flannagan said he was awakened about 4:30 a. m. and saw smoke coming from an electric clock on the altar. He left the room to give an alarm, but returned to get his clothes and was overcome. Most of the damage was confined to the altar linens.

Burial services were held today in Loretto, Pa. for the Rev. Daniel W. Egan, 33, who had been president of the college since 1946. Father Egan was asphyxiated in his bedroom early Monday when a cigarette ignited bed clothing.

The services will mark the 140th anniversary of the birth of the man who drilled the world's first commercial oil well on Aug. 27, 1859, at Titusville.

The wreath will first be dedicated at memorial services in the afternoon. Genevieve Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs, will place it on the tomb of Col. Drake in Woodland cemetery.

Following the services, a dinner for special guests will be

Egg Hunt on Saturday Come Rain or Shine

It was definitely announced early this afternoon that the American Legion Easter Egg Hunt, cancelled last Saturday due to inclement weather, will be held tomorrow afternoon, rain or shine, at the Legion Home in Pennsylvania avenue west. The affair will begin at two o'clock, and a joyful program is being arranged. Over 3,000 eggs have been prepared for the hunt, 700 of which will be of the "prize" variety. It is a foregone conclusion there will be a large and enthusiastic group of youngsters, most of whom will be accompanied by adults as spectators.

First Witnesses Taking Stand in Conspiracy Trial

HARRISBURG (AP)—Defense attorneys planned today to call their first witnesses after losing a bid to have charges dismissed against three men accused of cheating the Commonwealth in cinders transactions.

Atty. A. C. Scales, Greensburg, said the three defendants would testify in their own behalf. They are Frank J. Petrosky, operator of the Greensburg Supply Co., Roland J. Sell, Scottsdale, and Charles E. Falt, Greensburg, R.D. 2, former highways maintenance superintendents in Westmoreland County.

They are accused of conspiracy and false pretense in the sale of road cinders to the State Highways Department.

Scales said he also expected to call a number of character witnesses as the slow-moving trial entered its fifth day in Dauphin County Court.

Judge Homer L. Kreider Thursday rejected a defense motion to have charges against the three dropped. This followed a two-hour conference with prosecution and defense attorneys.

Scales contended the state had failed to prove its charges. The motion for dismissal came after Dist. Atty. Huette F. Dowling concluded the Commonwealth's case.

Earl J. Melman, a Justice Department accountant and one of 10 prosecution witnesses, testified that an audit he made showed the state lost $4,512 in alleged short-weight cinder deliveries. State police Sgt. Roy O. Wellendorf, who assisted in the cinders investigation, said in testimony that delivery slips involved in the transactions "were not of the usual format for delivery tickets."

He said the slips failed to carry the trucker's name, delivery date, truck license number and location of delivery and were not signed by a Highways Department representative.

Giant Liner Delayed by Fog Heads for Europe

NEW YORK (AP)—The Queen Elizabeth, world's largest passenger liner, a victim of the intermittent fog which blanketed the metropolitan area for 48 hours, weighed anchor today and headed for Europe.

The fog, disrupting air, sea and land traffic, lifted at 7 p.m. The liner got under way at 3:55 a.m. at high tide, aided by four tugs.

The Queen Elizabeth, which set a new turn-around record of 16 hours and 55 minutes, sailed Wednesday afternoon with 1,803 passengers and a crew of 1,212. However, the fog forced her to anchor in Gravesend Bay.

Clear Colonel In "Bumping" Of Six Airmen

TOKYO (AP)—The U.S. Air Force today cleared a lieutenant colonel of charges he bumped six homeward-bound enlisted men from a transport plane so he and his family could fly to Hawaii for a vacation.

But an Air Force investigating board said the officer, Lt. Col. Charles Platt Jr. of Brooklyn, N.Y., "by his actions contributed to the confusion" which caused the "administrative error" that was blamed for the bumping.

The Air Force did not say specifically what had happened but implied that subordinates handling the flight became flustered by the presence of Platt — their commanding officer — and dropped the waiting GIs from the passenger list.

As it turned out, the investigators said, there were eight vacant seats on the plane all the time; if the snafu hadn't happened, the servicemen, the colonel and his family all could have gone.

The board said it had turned its findings over to "appropriate commanders to determine whether or not disciplinary action is required."

The six enlisted men were all on emergency leave because of death or illness to close relatives. The plane took off without them from Tachikawa Air Base, just outside Tokyo, on March 26.

Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns, commander of American forces in Japan, personally ordered the aircraft to turn back after one of the outraged servicemen called him and complained that Platt, the passenger terminal commander at Tachikawa, and his vacationing family had taken their seats.

When the plane returned, the colonel, his wife and four children were taken off. Five of the soldiers got on and completed their journeys to the United States.

The sixth, Lewis Stramski of Harrah, Okla., had left the base but caught another flight the next day. Because both his first and last names were listed on the manifest, it was at first believed that seven airmen were involved in the incident. Stramski's sister died of polio a few minutes before he reached home.

Platt canceled his vacation to await the investigation.

Alcorn Confers With Man Who May Be Successor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Meade Alcorn, retiring Republican national chairman, confers today with the man regarded as his most likely successor—Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky.

Morton flew here Thursday night from his home in Louisville but didn't discuss the matter beyond saying he had been approached by some Republicans on the chairmanship.

"I have been reading about myself in the newspapers back home," he said, "and I thought I would come here to see what it is all about."

Alcorn, national chairman for two years, announced this week that he is resigning effective next weekend when the GOP National Committee meets here to pick the site and date of the 1960 Republican convention. He said he wants to return to his Hartford, Conn., law practice.

At a site-screening meeting Thursday, Chicago increased its bid for next year's GOP convention to more than $500,000.

Three Killed in Crash Of Helicopter in West

RICHLAND, Wash. (AP)—Three men were killed Thursday evening when an Army helicopter crashed and burned on the sprawling Hanford Atomic Works Reservation 25 miles north of here.

One of the men, Capt. Patrick McDonnell of Vancouver, Wash., and Richland, was a brother of an Air Force sergeant, William A. McDonnell, 25, who died in a similar helicopter crash in the Spokane River at Spokane, Wash., March 22.

The other two killed Thursday were Chief Warrant Officer Leo F. Tuttle, the pilot, of Palouse, Wash., and Maj. Joseph Giuliani of St. Paul, Minn., and Richland. The Army said the crash occurred while the helicopter was on a routine training flight.

Fishermen Drown During Heavy Storm

WELLFLEET, Mass. (AP)—Two men drowned, a third was missing, and four other fishermen swam ashore safely through 20-foot waves early today after the Boston fishing vessel Paul Mino went aground on a sandbar during a heavy rainstorm.

The bodies of the cook, Charles Piazzi, 25; and crewman Joseph Panto, both of Boston, were recovered and taken to a funeral home. Missing was the skipper of the 83-foot craft, Angelo Marino, 42, of Everett.

Marino was returning from his second trip since buying the vessel.

The accident occurred at 1 a. m. on the ocean side of Cape Cod. The survivors were listed as Michael J. Ciarametaro, 42; Frank Ciarametaro, 29, (no relations); and John Norris, 39, all of Gloucester; and James Clements, 45, of Somerville.

Clements was suffering from shock. The others were reported in good condition.

Norris said all the men donned life jackets after the vessel grounded and began taking on water. He added it was raining hard at the time and the wind was blowing about 35 miles an hour.

The craft sank lower as dawn broke, and the seven men decided to try to swim ashore.

Hours later, after the storm subsided, the Paul Mino still was fast in the sandbar. She did not sink.

Saylor For End of Farm Crops Program

KITTANNING, Pa. (AP)—Congressman John P. Saylor says the farm program is one place where "we can make some savings and some cuts" in the federal budget.

The Johnstown Republican told the Kittanning Chamber of Commerce Thursday that he favors ending the present federal program of supporting prices on a few farm crops.

He said he would like to see a substitute plan under which the U. S. would purchase and stockpile sufficient vital foods to assure a year's reserve.

PRIME MINISTER NEHRU CONFIRMS REPORT DALAI LAMA ESCAPED FROM REDS

By WATSON SIMS

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Tibetan exiles today hailed the escape of the Dalai Lama into India after a perilous flight from the Chinese Reds. They declared he still is their god-king.

Prime Minister Nehru confirmed to a cheering Parliament that the 23-year-old living Buddha of Tibet had reached a haven in India three nights ago, an escape first announced by the Peiping radio Thursday.

"Yes, he is in good health," Nehru said. Indicating the Dalai Lama will be given quick asylum, he promised that the refugee will be treated with great respect.

Prayers of thanksgiving were offered by Tibetan exiles from New Delhi to Kalimpong, the town near Tibet's frontier. The people of Kalimpong went wild with joy.

Nehru said the Dalai Lama crossed the border in north-east India north of the village of Towang, about 800 miles north of Calcutta. Towang has the largest Buddhist monastery in India.

The Dalai Lama and his party of about 80 are now approaching Towang.

Well-informed sources in Kalimpong said the Dalai Lama made his daring trek of about 300 miles from the capital of Lhasa to the Indian border in two weeks. Sometimes the fugitives saw Chinese Communist search planes overhead.

With the protection of fierce Khampa tribesmen, leaders in Tibet's rebellion, the Dalai Lama crossed great rivers and high mountain passes to reach the frontier, these sources said.

The Chinese Communists, in disclosing Thursday that their quarry had reached India, claimed he was kidnapped by rebels who rose up against the Red overlords in Lhasa, the Tibetan capital, just over two weeks ago.

But Nehru's statement to Parliament made clear that the young ruler fled Lhasa of his own accord and that he was seeking refuge in India.

Nehru said that he first learned Wednesday night that an emissary of the Dalai Lama had arrived at the Indian border in the north-east frontier area of Assam state.

The prime minister said that the young ruler and his party actually had crossed the border the night before but the message from the remote area was slow in reaching him. A second group subsequently arrived to swell the Lama's entourage to 80 persons, Nehru said.

Nehru said the Dalai Lama's emissary sought political asylum for his chief, and that the Indian political officer at Shillong, in Assam state, the chief town 150 miles south of the border, had prior instructions what to do. This was taken as an indication that asylum would be granted.

New Defense Effort To Block Evidence in Trial

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A new defense effort to block evidence will be ruled on today in the trial of Minnie B. (Connie) Nicholas for the slaying of her married lover.

The state sought Thursday to let the jury test the trigger pull of the death gun in a move to break down Mrs. Nicholas' story the shooting was accidental. Her attorneys raised strenuous objections.

Judge Thomas J. Faulconer adjourned the trial and said he would seek legal precedents on which to base a ruling.

New Important Technique in Cancer Treatment Reported

By JOHN BARBOUR

Associated Press Science Writer
EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (AP)—Now scientists can poison an arm or leg to kill a cancer without killing the patient.

The technique is also being used on the lungs, breasts and pelvis to fight regional cancers.

The treated part of the body, has to be shut off from the rest and supplied with a separate source of fresh blood.

Dr. Oscar Creech Jr. of Tulane University, described the new method before this week's American Cancer Society seminar. A pumping machine that acts like an artificial heart and lung

Jap Government Seeks Reversal of Ruling on Troops

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese government asked the Supreme Court today to reverse a lower court ruling that the presence of U.S. bases and troops in Japan is unconstitutional.

The district prosecutor's office appealed directly to the highest court to speed up a final ruling which, under normally slow Japanese court procedure, could take months or even years.

If the Supreme Court upholds the decision of the Tokyo District Court, it could mean Japan's removal from the non-Communist world's defense setup. But undoubtedly such a decision would result in an urgent campaign to amend the constitution.

Directly at stake is the 1951 U.S.-Japan security treaty, giving the United States the right to maintain bases and troops in Japan, and agreements to implement the treaty.

Superintendent Is Fired as Result Of Tragic Blaze

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—L. R. Gaines was discharged Thursday as superintendent of an Arkansas Negro boys industrial school as a result of a fire in a locked dormitory which killed 21 teenage youths March 5.

The school's board of directors said Gaines was dismissed for negligence in not having an adult with keys on duty in the building. Forty-eight boys escaped from the flaming dormitory by kicking their way through heavy metal window screens.

Also fired by the board of the Wrightsville Institution for Delinquent Boys was Gaines' wife, who was carried on the school payroll although she had a fulltime job as a schoolteacher; and two male employees the board said were unsatisfactory.

Nine other employees of the school resigned in protest of the firings, leaving five holdover staff members. All school employees are Negroes.

JETS FOR PAKISTANS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is planning to begin delivering B57 jet bombers to Pakistan late this year, the Pentagon says.

The Defense Department said Thursday night an undisclosed number of the light bombers are being furnished under terms of a military agreement between the United States and Pakistan.

outside of the body makes the technique possible.

Suppose a doctor wanted to treat a cancerous leg with chemical poisons in an effort to kill the tumor.

He can shut off the cancerous leg by a tourniquet. Then he can hook up the artificial heart and lung to the blood vessels of the leg, circulating fresh blood through this area.

In this way, he can introduce strong poisons to the leg's blood stream for up to an hour without fear of poisoning the patient. Poisonous anti-cancer agents like nitrogen mustard can be used in fairly strong concentrations with little harm to the rest of the body.

FOREST CANCER DRIVE

The Forest County Unit of the American Cancer Society held a board meeting Tuesday evening in the county courthouse. The president, Forest Cropp, presided. Members from Marionville, East Hickory, West Hickory, Endeavor and Tionesta were present. Problems of policy were discussed and voted upon. The Cancer Crusade dates were set for April 12 to 18. Following the board meeting, John Shippe, crusade chairman, held a meeting with the community leaders. Mr. Shippe gave a talk stressing the fact that, above all, one must get information to the public so they can be alerted to the warning signs of cancer. Plans were made to reach the goal of 01,500 for this year. The greater percentage of this fund will go to research. Forest County holds a door-to-door crusade each year.

Cancer Society Planning Headline Event for 1959 Crusade Monday, April 13

Warren County Unit, American Cancer Society, plans a tremendous kick-off event to headline its 1959 Cancer Crusade. The program will be staged Monday evening, April 13 at 8:00 in the YWCA gymnasium with every volunteer worker invited to attend.

Joseph Williamson, Warren General Hospital administrator, will act as host introducing Warren's own barbershoppers, The Tunicats, composed of Addie Scholes, John Swick, Virgil Albright and Max Sears.

Dr. Richard A. Peters, president of the local unit, will preside and present this year's key personnel heading the drive: Col. Edward Ayres, U. S. Army retired, regains as county Crusade chairman; Wayne DelChambre, district construction superintendent for Bell Telephone, county vice chairman; Robert "Pop" Young, familiar retired school teacher, borough residential chairman and Miss Mina Rieder, executive director. The Rev. Reed Hurst, pastor of Epworth Methodist church, will give the invocation.

Miss Sally Weiler, last year's gallant poster girl, will present the meaningful "Sword of Hope" to Mrs. Laverne Genberg, 463 Pleasant Drive, North Warren school teacher, who will represent the local ACS unit as the '59 poster girl.

Featured speaker of the evening is Dr. Marvin Bloom, associate professor of medicine; coordinator of research and development at University of Buffalo School of Medicine and also coordinator of the American Cancer Society Institutional Grant. Dr. Bloom will build his text around the rally slogan, Guard Your Family with a Check-up and a Check.

Entertainment will feature Sally Newhall, 7-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Newhall and pupil of Penny Beach, in a military tap and Faith Ann Harland, 5-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dana Harland, who will present her version of the '59 rally slogan. Susan Yaegle will act as accompanist and offer a medley of accordion selections.

To conclude, an original skit "Battle of Canerville" will be offered by Warren High School students and Dick Ray's Green Willow dancers. The skit, written by Mary Harland, points up that it takes three fronts of the cancer program: research, education and service, to bring killer cancer under control and guide to ultimate victory.

Refreshments will be served by the Business and Professional Women's Club with Mrs. Marian Davis as chairman. This April 13 kick-off affair precludes Warren county's "C" Day on April 14, when all volunteers will crusade house-to-house with life-saving educational literature.

Every so often I run across a hand that can serve as a problem. Here is one played at the Cavendish Club in New York by National Women's Team champion Bea Gale.

The game was rubber bridge and East and West were very good players. The problem is for you to figure out how Mrs. Gale sitting South made five spades doubled. You can look at all four hands, the opening lead and the bidding.

Here is how Bea did it. West led the ace of hearts at trick two and Bea dropped her king. This play clearly risked a two-trick set in case East held the jack of hearts and West continued the suit but it actually gave Bea her contract.

West thought a while and finally decided that Bea's king of hearts had to be a singleton. West just was not going to give dummy four heart tricks by leading away from his jack of hearts. He led another club. Bea discarded the losing diamond from dummy, ruffed in her own hand, drew trumps, finessed against West's jack of hearts and made her contract.

Instead of bidding four spades, your partner has rebid to four diamonds. What do you do now?

Khrushchev, the Man West Must Deal With at Summit

KHRUSHCHEV: KEY TO THE KREMLIN
Part IV

Editor's note—American tradition has its backwoods clodhopper. The Russian equivalent is the muzhik — crude and vulgar but shrewd and strong and bullheaded. Nikita Khrushchev was born a muzhik. Today he displays a veneer of polish but basically he is still the shrewd countryman who knows what he wants and how to get it. This is the fourth of five articles giving an insight into his career.

There, in the middle of things, bubbled Nikita Khrushchev, jabbing a stubby finger into the chest of his startled listener.

The scene was a British Embassy reception in Moscow in mid-1954. The listener was Clement Attlee, head of Britain's Labor Party.

Stalin, safely mummified, lay in his gaudy Red Square tomb. His lieutenants had faces now. They were individuals. They could talk out in public.

Khrushchev talked and talked, torrents of rapid, often ungrammatical Russian tinged with Ukrainian accent. Through it all his broad, persistent grin exposed two front teeth of glittering gold. His pale blue eyes stared into his hearer's. His pudgy fists would grab the hearer's lapel and hold him captive.

Cultivated, taciturn Georgi Malenkov, who considered himself Stalin's heir, looked on with a superior smile. Few outsiders seemed to take Khrushchev seriously, and some in the Kremlin made the same mistake.

"Noisy chap," muttered Attlee when the talking bout was over.

The first summit meeting still was a year away, but already it may have been in the back of Khrushchev's mind as a device to lull the West. An era of smiles had begun.

Moscow's collective leadership has its backwoods clodhopper. The Russian equivalent is the muzhik — crude and vulgar but shrewd and strong and bullheaded. Nikita Khrushchev was born a muzhik. Today he displays a veneer of polish but basically he is still the shrewd countryman who knows what he wants and how to get it. This is the fourth of five articles giving an insight into his career.

The Kremlin in 1954 was under severe strain. The Korean War was ended, a Stalin gamble which failed. The Indochina War was ending. Moscow hinted it wanted to settle the Austrian occupation problem, too. The Kremlin made extraordinary gestures toward Yugoslavia's Tito, the maverick Communist with whom Stalin feuded.

And the Soviet consumer was promised the world on a platter if he would just be patient.

The collective leadership, to the uncritical observer, was just one big happy family.

Khrushchev exploded the happy family notion in 1955. He, ousted Malenkov and required him to step down as premier, confessing himself a failure. Khrushchev installed pliable Nikolai Bulganin as premier — a mere echo of Khrushchev himself.

Thereafter, Khrushchev did the talking. At home he indicated the consumer would have to wait for the promised amenities of life while the U.S.S.R. concentrated on heavy industry to build world power.

Abroad he mixed smiles with threats.

Khrushchev and Bulganin journeyed to Belgrade to get Tito's forgiveness for Stalin's abuse.

Did all this mean the Russians at last planned to relax Communist pressure in the world's trouble spots? Shorted Khrushchev:

"If anyone believes our smiles involve abandoning the teachings of Marx, Engels and Lenin, he deceives himself badly. Those who wait for that will wait until the shrimp learns to whistle."

The West waited in vain for a whistling shrimp. In mid-summer, 1955, Khrushchev got the summit conference he so eagerly sought. Soviet propaganda conjured up a "spirit of Geneva". But that smiling ghost faded away quickly. By autumn Moscow was intruding in the Middle East with arms and propaganda.

Khrushchev and his shadow, Bulganin, went through India and southeast Asia like an amiable bear pawing for honey. Often he shocked his hosts, but he was making powerful propaganda.

"Truth is thorny and prickly for the eyes," thundered proverb-loving Khrushchev.

Truth was indeed thorny. In a secret speech punctuated by emotional sobs, Khrushchev denounced Stalin as a barbarian torturer, murderer and blunderer. Next: Khrushchev's gospel of Communism.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The gray wastes of the Atlantic today cloak a silent, never-ending struggle for leadership in naval power.

Adm. Jerauld (Jerry) Wright, top sea dog for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, has a new worry—reports that the Soviet Union is developing a submarine that can launch a guided missile with an atomic warhead.

"They can convert a number of their existing submarines to that purpose," he said grimly. "The defense of North America from the threat of attack by guided-missile submarines is occupying a good deal of our attention."

This and a multitude of other problems in the day-to-day race for supremacy at sea are under constant study by 140 NATO officers at Wright's headquarters at Norfolk, Va. He is proud of the fact it is the first and only Allied military headquarters ever established on U.S. soil.

The tall, sparely built 60-year-old admiral wears two hats.

As American naval commander in the Atlantic, he guards the eastern approaches to North and South American continents from the North Pole to the South Pole.

As NATO's Atlantic commander, his ships and men from eight Allied nations patrol millions of square miles between the West Indies and the North Pole, all the vital sea lines that link Europe and North America.

"It isn't an easy thing to bring naval forces of different nations into a coordinated task force," he said, "but we feel we have done it. They get along well, and they work together as a team."

"Three-fourths of Russia's 450 submarines are concentrated in European waters," he pointed out. "There they are in position to try to sever Europe from America and extend the Iron Curtain to the very shoreline of the United States and Canada."

"That is their goal. Our task is to prevent them."

Wright, son of an Army lieutenant general, at 19 was one of the youngest men ever to be graduated from the Naval Academy. He served as naval aide to Presidents Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover, played a hero's role in a number of daring naval combat missions during World War II.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Fifty movie men are out to put some life in the Los Angeles-Hollywood social world, and they're spending a million dollars to do it.

Saturday night will mark the preview of the Cave Des Roys, a new pleasure spot in the heart of Lacienege's restaurant row. But it's different from the other stylish eateries on the boulevard. This one is a private club for 4,000 prominent of the movie and business world.

The accent is not on food, but on fun.

"This will be a fun place," explained C. E. Erickson, local cafe owner and managing director of Cave Des Roys. "Los Angeles sure needs something like this. It is the deadead town for its size in the country. People just don't go out and have fun here."

Erickson gave me a preview of the preview and it does indeed look like a fun place. Sort of a rich man's Disneyland.

It's styled in French 15th century and patterned after the Cave du Rois, which several of the founders visited in Beirut, Lebanon. Architect Serge Sassouni of Beirut was commissioned to design the two-story building. Much

NATO. THE FIRST DECADE

After 10 years, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization still ranks as one of the most remarkable military alliances in modern history. Never before in peacetime has the United States joined other free countries to form a protective shield against potential aggressors.

NATO is unique, too, in having—a peacetime—a closely knit central command working with the kind of authority it would have in war.

Older systems of alliance were things of paper promises locked in the diplomats' vaults. NATO has an identity, a physical presence, of its own. There are air bases, installations, armies and equipment in being, in strategic defensive alignment across the face of free Europe.

No realist ever pretends NATO is all that was hoped for when it was established in April, 1949. The 21 divisions of men strung along the Western arc are not much more than a token of the 96 once planned. Some of those divisions are "temporarily diverted" or undermined.

But the flesh and blood of NATO is nevertheless a powerful factor for peace. Every soldier is a symbol. Together, even in their painfully reduced numbers, they form a psychological barrier to the Communist aggressor.

No one understands the height of that wall better than the men in the Kremlin.

They have tried hundreds of times, by every magician's trick of their fraudulent diplomacy, to smash NATO. Seldom do they conceive of a proposal for Germany, or Europe, that does not contain as a major point the dissolving of NATO's sturdy bond.

The Russians' unrelenting urge to destroy NATO is the highest tribute it could be paid.

NATO's armies are no match for Soviet military might on the ground. The Berlin crisis has emphasized that once more. Yet the Russians know they cannot strike against this symbol of free Western resistance without bringing into play the crushing weight of American nuclear power in counterthrust.

NATO the idea is far, far stronger than NATO as a force. Looking upon it from the perspective of its 10 years of life, it seems one of the great ideas conceived by free men for their safety in this century of peril.

WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It has taken the Western allies about four months just to reach a point where they seem agreed on standing firm on the Berlin crisis.

They had been agreed for some weeks on willingness to negotiate with the Soviet Union to settle the crisis peacefully. But if they know—much less being agreed on—what they want to negotiate, it's still locked up in their heads. Chances are they don't know—yet, and won't until they've done some more weeks of talking. All of which is pretty good evidence of two things:

1. How thoroughly Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev shook them up with his demand last November that the United States, Britain and France get their troops out of West Berlin which is 110 miles inside Communist East Germany.

2. How thoroughly allied policy in Europe has been frozen for years and how thoroughly it was unprepared to meet a sudden twist in events like the one pulled by Khrushchev.

The Allies haven't lacked time for plenty of discussion since last November.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, after conferring with Khrushchev, visited President Eisenhower. President Charles de Gaulle of France and West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

His visits seemed something less than fully satisfactory from the standpoint of allied unity. Reports of disagreement between him and Eisenhower—or, perhaps it would be better to say their failure to see eye-to-eye—leaked out.

Then this week the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany met for two days before the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's 15-member nations opened their session here.

As late as Thursday afternoon it was reported the Western allies were split, with Britain off on one side suggesting they concentrate on solving the Berlin situation even at the cost of delaying unification of Germany.

To put it another way: There have been reports the British were for making concessions to the Soviets to get over the Berlin hump.

Then Thursday night NATO spokesmen sought to paint a picture of unity at last among the Big Three and West Germany with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd represented as taking a stand for German reunification, too.

In short: the NATO spokesmen attempted to show allied unity in determination to withstand Soviet pressure for concessions.

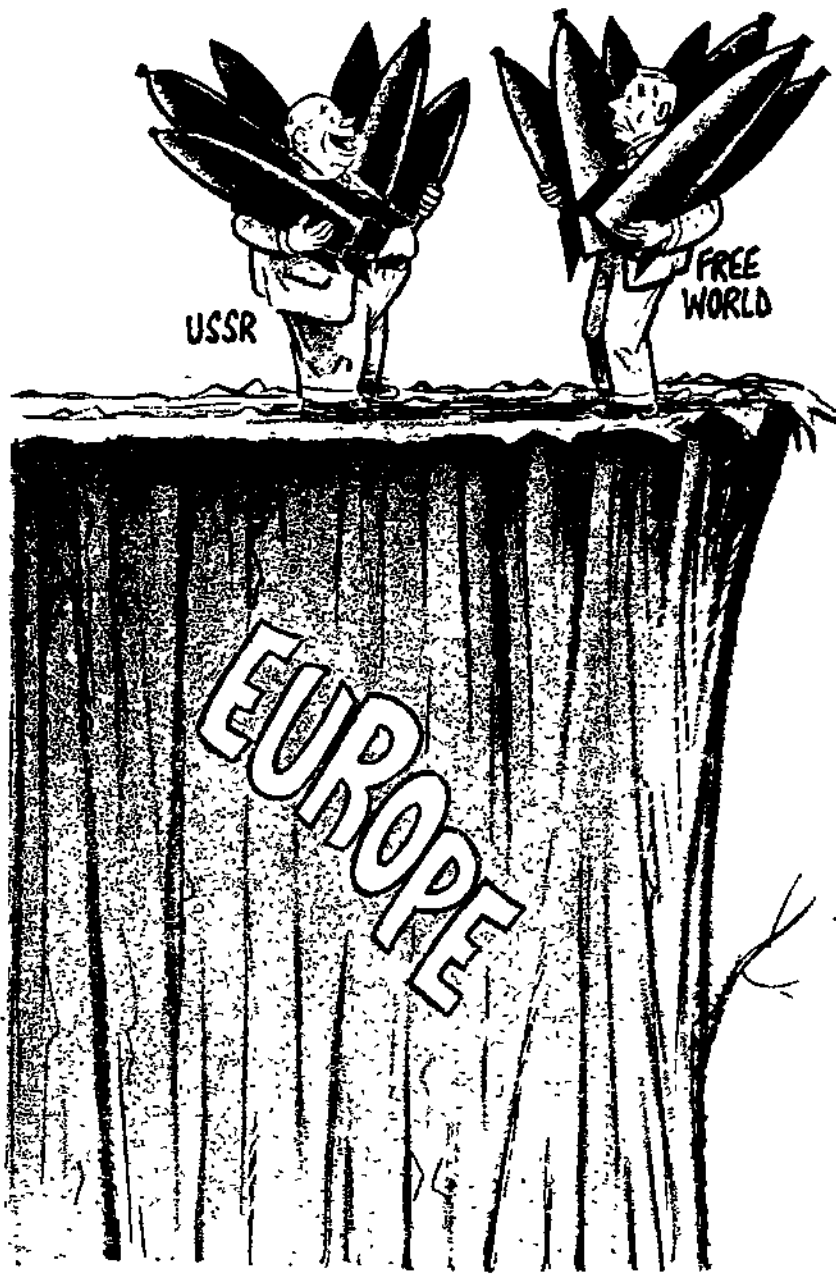

But if the West isn't ready to make concessions—in return for Soviet concessions—there doesn't seem much reason for negotiations.

As for concessions: It seems to this writer the West has already made a big one. For years the West—particularly the United States—has insisted on the reunification of East and West Germany through free elections. Now talk of reunification through free elections seems to have disappeared from the speech of Western spokesmen. Actually, the idea of uniting the two Germans through free elections has been unrealistic from the beginning.

The reason: The Soviet Union is against it and this year Khrushchev again brushed aside any such idea. And no wonder. East Germany is a Russian satellite. Moscow isn't going to chance losing anything it has its hands on.

It would lose East Germany in (Turn to Page Five)

Here and There

Don't forget to take time out tonight or Saturday to visit the annual Industrial fair at Beatty Cafeteria, sponsored by the Warren Jaycees. In this connection it is worthy of special mention that local industries have long been more than generous to the Jaycees, as is reflected by the fact that sixteen of them are displaying wares at the big show. Entering this year are:

Sylvania, Bell Telephone Pennsylvania Electric, National Forge, Warren Concrete Products, Pennsylvania Gas, North Penn Pipe and Supply, Inter-electric Corporation, Delux Metal, Anderson Bakings, Warren TV Corporation, Warren Components Division, United Refining, Allegheny Valve Company, Eisenfeld Barrel Works, Manufacturers Light and Heat, as well as a display from Warren Public Library, with books and materials relating to the various industries involved. Hit of the show this year may well be the beautiful Sylvania Television set to be given away sometime Saturday at the show. Merely by registering at door you can become eligible for the big prize. Special gift, will also be given to the children, and parents should not be reluctant to bring their kiddies with them

when they go to Beatty. With science very much in the lime light, nothing is more important to a child than a good knowledge of the industries in the town in which he lives. What better way to so acquaint your child than by attending the Jaycees Industry on Parade Show at Beatty Cafeteria, April 3 or 4.

In connection with the announcement that the J. C. Penney Company is celebrating its 57th anniversary of its founding with a three-week Festival of Values, launched April first, it is interesting to note that scenes and events of early Americans are being depicted in Penney's advertising this year, with the familiar peddler of a generation ago being displayed in ads during the observance. This friendly character of the early 1900's was as much a part of the American scene as the suburban shopping center is becoming today. In contrast to founder J. C. Penney the peddler set his prices to what he thought suited the pocketbooks of his customers. In 1902, when Penney's was founded, the housewares peddler was in his heyday. No longer however, did he operate as did his prototype, the legendary "Yankee Peddler," selling one or two items exclusively. His horse-drawn cart was laden with everything from ammunition to yeast...literally a specialty store on wheels. He knew the needs of the townspeople and supplied them. His visits were frequent and his salesmanship was compelling. These peddlers were often manufacturers, salesmen and transportation agents for their wares, although later the peddler bought from manufacturers and was responsible only for selling and transporting his merchandise. Among his wares were baskets, Bibles, books, boots and bowls. Calico, candles, candy, catechisms and cheese; kettles, razors, silverware, sponges, wash boards, watermelons and many other articles. Today the peddler is a vanishing American. He now is found only in the folklore of America or on the streets of the larger cities hawking items such as roasted chestnuts, sweets, newspapers and mechanical toys. Replacing him are today's retailers who go to great lengths to make their wares not only available to their customers but to insure customer satisfaction as well. An example of this is the research and testing done in modern, scientific laboratories, such as the one operated by Penney's which last year made more than 50,000 tests to maintain quality standards and protect customers. One of the reasons for Penney's success has been its advertising policies. The Company never uses the terms "price slash" or "drastic reduction" in its advertising. Penney's believes an advertisement comparing a price would cast doubt on the fairness of the "original" price and on the quality of the advertised merchandise. The Company believes that its advertising promotes customer confidence in the integrity of its merchandising policies.

Progress Report--Curry Connoisseurs-- They Also Serve--No Dopes--Zsa Zsa

BY JERRY BENNETT
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois, who this year took over the Republican leadership, says there have been a lot of changes in Washington during the 26 years he has been in Congress.

When he first came here in 1933, the country was slaughtering surplus little pigs. Now they give 'em away to foreign countries under Public Law 480. Henry Wallace was storing surplus eggs in a Kansas cave during the Great Depression. Now Department of Agriculture scientists are trying to make hens lay two eggs at a time—to make more to store.

When Dirksen first came to Washington he had to get a long-tail coat for social functions. He hasn't worn it in some years, so now he's getting ready to bequeath it to ICA for foreign aid to Greek undertakers.

But quoting the old French proverb, Senator Dirksen declares that the more things change in Washington, the more they remain the same.

In 1933 there were the three R's—Relief, Recovery and Reform. Dirksen says if you don't believe they're still around, just ask Sen. Hubert Humphrey.

PARTYGOERS acted as if they were addicted to the chicken curry served at the recent Pakistan Embassy National Day celebration. Even dignitaries who normally hurry home from parties after one quick snack stayed for a second helping.

When the chicken was gone, guests satisfied their craving by pouring the curry sauce over rice. One partygoer was even seen discreetly dunking a roll into the buffet sauce bowl.

STACHTSHEIT Nixon-for-President supporters in town are waitresses at the Statler-Hilton Hotel. When friends tossed a birthday luncheon for Mrs. Nixon in one of the hotel's dining rooms, the waitresses bought some flowers for the table as a present.

They are so pleased with the long thank-you letter Mrs. Nixon wrote them that they have tacked it up on the kitchen bulletin board. And they have secretly agreed to give slow service to anyone they hear criticizing the vice president.

A WASHINGTON psychiatrist tells the story about reform school officials who decided to give tranquilizers to their most troublesome inmates. They were amazed how well the happy pills worked. Within a couple of days there was not the slightest evidence of tension anywhere in the building.

They were soon jolted, however, to learn that the kids hadn't taken a single tranquilizer. Instead, they had been slipping them into the staff members' coffee.

WASHINGTON partygoers aren't surprised about the break-up between movie star Zsa Zsa Gabor and prominent California contractor Hal Hayes. When the couple tossed an engagement party here a few weeks ago, it was rumored that the real reason for the event was to give Hayes a chance to promote good will with congressmen.

Shortly before the wingding ended, Zsa Zsa got into an argument with photographers and refused to let them take her picture. When Hayes told her to pose, Zsa Zsa cracked:

"I come to Washington to help you out and all you do is give me a hard time."

How to Keep Well

MILD AND SEVERE STROKES

Apoplexy varies in severity. A minor stroke may have little or no impact on the body, because only a small area of the brain has been affected. Some persons have many strokes without being aware that they have occurred. The victim may have a brief dizzy spell, a feeling of confusion, or slight clumsiness of one hand. Others are left in an irritable mood or awaken in the morning with a changed personality.

The more severe stroke is followed by muscle paralysis, loss of speech, or impaired memory. The outcome is unpredictable but it is surprising how many improve spontaneously. Those who recover quickly are not in need of rehabilitation because the muscles have not atrophied and there is no loss of strength.

On the other hand, a paralyzed extremity should be massaged and exercised as soon as possible. It keeps the joints flexible, prevents deformities, and stimulates circulation. This must be done by someone else, because the victim is helpless. The physician will instruct a member of the family on what to do if a nurse or physical therapist is not available.

Rehabilitation is of value only so long as the victim cooperates. The paralyzed person must want to recover and have the desire to be independent. It is natural to be dejected and depressed when confined to bed with paralysis, hence a barrel of encouragement must be given by family and friends.

A bright outlook helps considerably and more cooperation is obtained when signs of improvement occur. Should the extremity remain paralyzed, considerable ingenuity is needed to find different ways to maintain the will to recover.

If 12 months have elapsed and there are no signs of recovery, the individual must be told the truth and taught to rely upon braces and other appliances to care for himself. If men and women with an amputated leg or arm can learn to use a prosthesis, there is no reason why a person with a paralyzed extremity cannot learn to do the same.

URINARY TRACT BLEEDING

J. L. writes: Is blood in the urine a sign of kidney disease?
REPLY
Not necessarily, as the blood may be coming from any part of the urinary tract. There are many causes, including tumors, ulcers, stones, infection, injury, or severe exertion. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on hematuria.

LAMB AND WATER

Mrs. M. writes: Is it harmful to drink cold water when lamb is the meat dish?
REPLY
No. This old wives' tale stems from the observation that lamb fat tends to solidify when left standing or exposed to cold. The cold water does not do this but even if it did, the stomach is capable of digesting the fat.

EATING INDUCES PERSPIRATION

G. T. writes: Whenever I start eating I start sweating. Is this a sign of any ailment?
REPLY
No. Food increases metabolism and tends to dilate the capillaries of the skin. The effect is more marked in some than in others.

DISORDERS

N. P. writes: What is a neurological disease?
REPLY
A disorder of the brain, spinal cord, or peripheral nervous system. Included on the list of neurological diseases are stroke, parkinsonism, epilepsy, and neuritis.

SPARSE BEARD

J. D. writes: Is scantiness of the beard inherited like baldness of the scalp?
REPLY
Yes. The beard pattern also depends upon the glandular make-up of the individual and the race.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Shields against a future rise in the cost of living are being increasingly sought and tried today by harried Americans.

Fear that inflation will be on the prowl again after the current lull is widespread.

Rising prices hit first in today's bills. One guard against that is an escalator clause in wage contracts.

Then the erosion of the purchasing power of the dollar robs the investor who has put money into insurance, U.S. Savings Bonds, pensions, bank accounts or other forms of fixed income. To guard against that investors are turning to common stocks, variable annuities, gold, gems, art treasures, real estate and sometimes commodities.

The Labor Department says four million workers are now covered by cost of living escalator clauses in their wage contracts.

Some countries are tying escalator clauses for their bonds—that is tying interest payments to the cost of living. Social Security checks similarly tied have been suggested for this nation by a few. And the variable annuity plans propose a like escalator—payments varying with the results of investing the funds in common stocks. Critics of escalator clauses contend they inspire a circle. The cost of living goes up, wages go up, production costs go up, prices go up, the cost of living is up again, etc.

Gold as an inflation hedge is widely used abroad. Americans can't buy gold from their Treasury but they can buy it in Switzerland or Canada and store it there. But there are storage charges and no return on the investment until — and a big if—the price of gold goes up.

Precious stones are often good inflation hedges. But there are costs of safe storage, insurance and reselling.

Of late there's been a rush to art treasures and antiques. There have been astounding rises in the prices of some of these. You have to be an expert to pick out the right art objects. And even then you can't predict future changes in tastes and fashions.

Advancing real estate prices have helped many offset the fall in the purchasing power of the dollar. But you had to have the right real estate in the right places.

The same goes for common stocks. If you picked winners you're sitting pretty. But there are many stocks selling for less now than in 1946.

Spring Activities of Girl Scouts Listed in April Issue of Trefoil

Looking ahead to spring activities for the ever-growing membership of Girl Scouts, brownies, and adult leaders, Warren - Forest Council lists through "Trefoil" a busy schedule for the month of April.

Among the busiest groups are those preparing for summer sessions at Camp Birdsall Edey and preparations for Council's representation at the Senior Roundup at Colorado Springs in July.

Details are given concerning Troop Camping, set for two sessions, August 3-8 and August 10-14; also for Browne Day Camp in four five-day sessions, June 8-12, June 15-19, June 29-July 3.

Additional public announcement concerning these plans will be made soon by Mrs. Nelson A. Johnson, camp committee chairman, and Mrs. A. Bunk, who heads the Day Camp committee. Similarly, Mrs. Robert Stewart reports for two 12-day sessions of Established Camp with folders being sent to all eligible.

Attention is also called to rules which must be followed if troops have in prospect sight-seeing trips to other communities.

Those who attended, or missed out on last year's Browne and Intermediate Pow-Wows will be pleased with announcement the program committee has planned similar events this year. Designated as Roundups, the dates are May 11 for Intermediates and May 25 for Brownies, with the 13th and 27th set as alternates, in case of rain. Camp Birdsall Edey will again be the site.

Leaders' Club has chosen April 28 for its annual dinner, with serving at 6:30 p. m. in the Lander parish house. For the program, there will be a showing of outstanding color slides by Mr. Burgeson of Jamestown.

Those wishing to participate in the Art Exhibit are advised this project has been extended to May 1, with entries to be displayed at Camp Birdsall Edey during the Intermediate and Brownie Roundups May 11 and 25.

The matter of financing the Senior Scouts who will go to the Colorado Roundup is also of prime importance at this point. With $1,200 to be raised by Council, troops are encouraged to make contributions to the Roundup Fund, with May 1 set as deadline for reporting such aid.

Spring is also the time of year, and April the month, when the Scouts ask the cooperation of all their friends in conduct of the annual Cookie Sale. Proceeds from this endeavor go to Camp Birdsall Edey and make possible a better camping program for all units. "Happy selling and good eating" is the suggested Cookie Sale theme for 1959.

Republican Women Hear Timely Talk by Northern Area Principal

Although many faithful members of the Warren County Council of Republican Women were reported ill with prevalent flu, last evening's meeting at the court house found an interested group on hand to hear a most interesting talk by Dr. Everett Landin, supervising principal of Northern Area High School.

After thorough research into acts and figures pertaining to education in Warren County schools, Dr. Landin has compiled a remarkable study that everyone should hear. Augmented by explanatory slides which show actual pages of the thesis he talks is based on results of questionnaires mailed and returned by adults who have been through Warren County schools as well as current high school students.

Questions referred to individual's thoughts on what benefit they felt was received from the curriculum available to them in school with the new familiar ten imperative needs of youth used as basis. Graphs showed the responses and answers came from every part of the world and all U. S. possessions as well as major cities. Dr. Landin reminded that 75% of non-graduates remain in Warren county with 52% of graduates also remaining. The test takes place in many places and many fields and the need for the right kind of education becomes more and more obvious. He also advised that in voting for school directors, electors should educate themselves to know "what they're voting for."

During a brief business session, members were advised that "Legislative Day" in Harrisburg for this district is May 12 and it is hoped that sufficient interest will be shown to have a bus for the trip.

Mrs. Martha Shattuck, political activities chairman, will be in charge of the next meeting of Republican Women on Thursday, April 30, when all GOP candidates for county offices at the May 19 primary election, will receive written invitations to speak briefly before the membership and other interested Republicans in the area. Two members of the Warren Area Joint School Board were in attendance to note Dr. Landin's text.

Charity Bridge Game In Erie on Saturday

The Erie Bridge Association will hold its annual charity game at 1:30 p. m. Saturday at the Erie Moose Club. The American Contract Bridge League of New York City each year appoints a "charity of the year." This year it is the A. and R. Foundation, which will benefit from the various games held throughout the country by the different clubs and units of the ACBL.

In addition to helping a very worthwhile cause, players will be vying for master point awards. The game will be played on a sectional basis, which means that the number of points to be given will be equal to that given at a regular sectional, open pair tournament.

The second session will be held Saturday evening. Those not able to play both sessions may play in the special game that evening. The first session will be a qualifying round as in an open pair, two session event. Local players on hand for the event will include R. H. Larsen with W. Morgan Beverly of Corry as winners of this event last year, they are defending their title.

It has also been announced that a local rated charity game, also for the A. and R. Foundation, will be held by the Corry Bridge Association at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the Veterans Club of Corry. This will also be a master point event with the number of points to be awarded commensurate with the number of tables in play. At the conclusion of play, free refreshments will be served to all participants.

Reservations for this particular game are not necessary, but those planning to play and who are sure to be attending should notify Mr. Larsen, as the pairs will be "seeded" for the event. Mr. Beverly has asked for an advance listing on as many pairs as possible.

Anyone desiring more information about either game should contact Mr. Larsen. He will take care of transportation from Jamestown for those wishing to participate in the Corry charity game.

So far, the ACBL charity games have netted since last July 1 more than $400,000, which will be presented to the A. and R. Foundation at the Summer Nationals in July in Chicago.

C. W. Johnsons' Have Silver Anniversary

A delightful open house in honor of the 25th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. Walter Johnson, 5 East Third avenue, was given from 3:00 to 9:00 p. m. Saturday, March 21 by their children, Douglas, Walter R. Beverly, Paul and Robert. Mrs. Johnson greeted her guests in a mauve nylon lace dress.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were married March 21, 1934, in St. Paul's Lutheran church by Rev. Vernon Serenius. Members of the original wedding party in attendance included Mrs. Elmer Lundahl, Miss Charlotte Erickson and Robert Nesmith, who was best man. Telegrams and letters were received from many out of town friends, including three former Warren pastors, Rev. Carl Jacobson, Rev. Serenius and Rev. Elmer Landerdahl.

During the party, the engagement of their daughter, Beverly, to Robert Yerg, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. Follmer Yerg, was revealed by a floral piece in which was displayed a large "engagement ring", which included two hearts with the young people's names inscribed on them.

Highlight was a telephone call about 8:15 p. m. from their son Walter (Rudy), who is stationed at Beady Air Force Base in Japan. It was 10:15 Sunday morning in Japan when he called.

Delicious refreshments were served with the following serving as aides: Miss Erickson and Mrs. Lundahl at the punch bowl, and four nieces poured. Mrs. Richard Bentz, Mrs. Alfred Mullhaupt, Mrs. Charles Reese and Mrs. Leroy Peck.

Out of town guests were present from Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Lancaster, Harrisburg, East Orange, N. J., Jamestown, Youngsville and Irvine.

Gathered From The Party Line

Mrs. Carli Lundahl, 204 Buchanan street, has left for Upsala College, East Orange, N. J., for a meeting of the Stewardship Committee of the New York Conference, of which she is a member.

Miss Daley's plans include a tour of the United Nations Building, a guest at the television show "Hit Parade", tickets to the Easter show at Radio City Music Hall, and two well known Broadway plays.

A post card received today from Ray Malone, Jackson street, North Warren, advises that he is taking in the sights in Washington, D. C., where the beautiful cherry blossoms are in full bloom.

The National Merit Scholarship qualifying test will be given to Junior students in Warren High School on Saturday, May 2. Cost of this service is one dollar.

Junior girls who are considering applying for Keystone Girls Camp should sign in the Guidance Office by Tuesday. The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

THE FAITH AMERICANS LIVE BY-1

They call him "The Hoodlum Priest" because of his interest in helping convicts to find the road back.

For 20 years the Rev. C. Dismas Clark, S.J., has been more at home in prisons across the nation than in any parish rectory. He speaks the language of prisoners, knows their problems, and has had thousands of men released in his care.

"I want anyone to phone me collect when they think of doing anything wrong," said this dedicated Jesuit to me. "I am not a do-gooder and never preach. I think like a doctor who hates cancer but not the patient. I don't like crime but I like the criminal. He's a fellow human being, one of God's people, and I know what a speck of understanding will do in a dark hour."

Father Clark changed his middle name to Dismas, after the Good Thief whose entry into Paradise symbolizes the hope of all convicts and Christ's love for them. In his small bedroom in St. Louis, Mo., hang two pictures of the Good Thief on the cross next to Christ, both painted by convicts.

Now Father Clark is forming "Halfway House," an organization to provide shelter, job possibilities and counseling for convicts of all faiths after their release from prison.

Penelec Sponsors Students At Atom Youth Conference

Pennsylvania Electric Company will sponsor six high school seniors, who are majoring in science, and their science teachers at a national "Youth Conference on the Atom," at Atlantic City, April 30-May 1, it was announced today by Louis H. Roddis, Jr., president.

The students will be selected by a panel of impartial judges from a group who have been asked to write a 25 word statement on the subject, "Why I would like to attend the Youth Conference on the Atom." Principals of high schools in the area served by Penelec have nominated the outstanding science student in their schools to compete for the privilege of attending the conference.

More than 500 science students and their teachers will be sent to the conference by 60 electric utility companies from throughout the United States. There they will hear discussions on peaceful uses of nuclear energy, including development of electrical energy, a program in

Bargains Galore To Be Available At JC's Auction

Bargains galore are in store for those who attend the Jaycee's annual Auction which will be held Saturday afternoon April 11, beginning at 1:00 p. m. in Beatty School Cafeteria. The Auction Committee, headed by Bob Brown has been busy collecting hundreds of interesting and valuable items for the affair. All of these items will go on the auctioneers block next Saturday.

Jaycees will be combing the town all day tomorrow collecting the merchandise, furniture, appliances etc. that merchants and individuals have donated for the Auction. In a last minute plea for auctionable items, Chairman Brown urged everyone who has items that they would care to donate to call 1170 or 4435-J tonight so that a pickup can be arranged tomorrow.

Brown said that almost any item is acceptable and pointed out that Warren residents can get rid of things they no longer need or want and that they would have to dispose of themselves by getting the Jaycees to haul them away for them.

Jaycees pick-up committee will be collecting from merchants during the morning hours tomorrow so that calls from residents will be accepted at either of the above phone numbers until noon tomorrow.

Already included in the growing list of items the Jaycees have already collected are several record players, numerous other new, expensive appliances, several rooms full of handsome furniture, articles of brand new clothing and many others. Chairman Brown said, "I'll be at the Auction and I hope that all bargain hunters, which includes just about everybody, will be there too."

Questions and Answers About Warren Schools

Readers are invited to send suggestions for questions to be used in this column to School Editor, Warren Times-Mirror. The questions are answered by the Warren school administration and staff as a community service.

Question:
"Is it possible for a young child in grade school to learn to speak a foreign language?"

Answer:
"Yes. Research by doctors and educators shows that eight years old is the ideal age to begin to learn a foreign language. The neurologists explain that the lips, palate and tongue are at the proper stage of development at age eight. That is the easiest age for the child to experiment with other languages than English. The child's vocal equipment matures later on. This is why an eight-year-old can pronounce a foreign language much better than a high schooler or junior high student.

"Also, the researchers find the young child's response to new interests is higher than in later years."

Question:
"My son doesn't seem to study Julius Caesar in his second year Latin course as we did in high school. The textbook contains, instead of "All Gaul is divided in three parts," a lot of excerpts from other authors."

Answer:
"Yes, things change, including the Latin textbooks. I doubt that any schools go all through Julius Caesar now in Latin II. Perhaps a few private schools might."

Question:
"I know children can get bored in grade school for several different reasons. But when it happens to those with a so-called good IQ, what is done?"

Answer:
"The teachers are expected to ask the parents about special interests of the pupil. Then the teacher stimulates this kind of child by assigning an extra project and correcting it when it is completed.

"This practice is known to the school principals, and it will be included in the superintendent's bulletin to the teachers next fall."

Question:
"What is the next point you find in Dr. Conant's famous study of high schools in America?"

Answer:
"Dr. Conant thinks it is a good idea to give the high school graduates, along with their diplomas, a record of subjects studied. We do not do that, although we encourage employers to call the office to get details on what the boy or girl has studied. We have been considering this recommendation.

Your Throat Is Always on View

Lovely Face Doesn't Help Neglected Neck

BY ALICIA BART
NEA Beauty Editor

With some women, the habit of concentrating beauty care upon the face is a marked one. The reason it's marked is that the neck shows all too plainly the results of neglect.

For women who wouldn't dream of going out of the house with a slip showing or with crooked stocking seams will forget to apply make-up below the chin. They go about with what appears to be a painted mask in place of a face. And they carry over this same thinking when it comes to applying cream at night. The face gets a careful creaming, with upward and outward strokes, and the neck is left quite alone.

It's no wonder that there are such large numbers of mature women with scraggly, unattractive throats.

The throat should have the same rich creaming as the face. There is now on the market a cream containing polylipids, which is just another way of saying that it restores moisture to dry skin and tends to make it bloom. It's ideal for both face and neck and should be used nightly.

The throat needs exactly the same care as does the face in order to offset skin dryness. But many women are prone to forget this and concentrate entirely on the facial area. This girl uses a cream that gives the skin a freshly moist look.

Liz and Eddie Make Plans For Alter Trek on May 11

By JAMES BACON
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — An ecstatic Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher today made plans for a private wedding that will take place probably May 11.

"No one will know about it until it's over," the joyful actress told a reporter Thursday night.

"We are both very grateful to Debbie."

She was referring to Debbie Reynolds, Fisher's wife, who announced Thursday she would not oppose Fisher's desire to get a quickie Nevada divorce so that he could marry Miss Taylor.

"I wish Liz and Eddie happiness," Debbie said as she arrived in Los Angeles after a transpolar flight from a movie location in Spain.

The news made Liz and Eddie so happy that they literally jumped for joy. A reporter told them of Debbie's statement while the two were at the $500-a-week dude ranch that Miss Taylor rents while Fisher performs nearby at the Tropicana Hotel.

"Liz is flipping," said Fisher. "She's jumping all over the room. I'm grateful that Debbie did this."

Then Liz got on the telephone and said: "I'm so happy I almost passed out at the news. I knew all along that Debbie would consent. Just chalk it up to woman's psychology or intuition."

Liz originally had made plans to attend Burl Ives' opening at the Flamingo Hotel Thursday night. Ives, her co-star in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" and also a fellow Academy Award nominee, was opening Wednesday night.

"I decided that Eddie and I should be alone," she explained.

"Also, I've been fighting a sore throat."

She was not at Fisher's supper show but the singer went out to the ranch between shows and she returned with him to the midnight show.

"I'll be here every night from now on," she said, "either out front or around the dressing room."

That means two shows a night for the next six weeks, the time needed for Fisher to establish Nevada residence. He said he probably will charge incompatibility in his divorce suit against Debbie.

Debbie got a California decree in February from Fisher but it will not be final for a year. As a result Liz and Eddie cannot live in California as man and wife until February 1960. Otherwise Fisher would be subject to prosecution for bigamy in that state.

CONSERVATION WEEK ESSAY

The following feature article on Conservation Week, April 5-11, was submitted by Don DeLuca, of the Newswriting Class at Warren High School:

With Conservation Week looming ahead, it is fitting to look into some phases of today's conservation, and of its benefits to us. Because of a flood situation glaring at us in Warren today, the use of our forestlands will be discussed first.

Warren is the headquarters for the Allegheny Forest, which lies to the south of us. Here through proper logging methods, tree planting, and careful use of virgin trees, conservation may be made to work to our advantage. Trees retain much water which otherwise runs off, by their lengthy root systems. From that, we realize that we would not suffer from continual floods were the forests not destroyed. Flooding does occur, however as we have an insufficient number of trees.

The Pennsylvania Forestry Commission has stated that for every tree cut, at least one should take its place. Reforestation in our state has been successfully started with the help of the Boy Scouts and individual groups, as well as by the planting of evergreens on filled in strip mining areas by mining companies. When this replanting is finished, Pennsylvvania's wooded areas will serve as recreational and scenic facilities, and will be a boon to mankind.

Another need for conservation in Pennsylvania is the reservation of our oil and coal supply. Any citizen of our state must be aware that he lives in a state now having abundant coal. He must be first to realize that within a few decades this supply will be exhausted. Solar energy may provide us with our future source of electricity. The amount of sunlight that falls upon the state of Arizona could be successfully converted into producing enough power to service the whole United States if means were discovered.

And yet another need of conservation is continuation of the useful methods by which modern agriculture is put to work for us. Today's farm owner has learned to rotate his crops; how to plant on a hill; what kind of vegetation to plant on his particular kind of soil, etc. Recently in Texas a project was undertaken to clear brushland and make it again suitable for raising livestock. This project is now highly successful making Texas today again one of the largest producers of beef cattle.

If they can do it, so can we. Let us remember to do our part by observing Conservation

Home of Kiwanis in Chicago

The new Kiwanis International Building 101 East Erie Street in Chicago. The general office staff of Kiwanis International and its youth organizations moved into this modern glass, marble and structural metal building on Friday, March 20, 1959. From here, the servicing of all 4600 U.S., Canadian and Hawaiian clubs is now handled.

The general office of Kiwanis International moved into new quarters — the just-completed Kiwanis International Building at 101 E. Erie Street in Chicago — on Friday, March 20th, it was announced by Plummer F. Collins president of the Kiwanis Club of Warren. All 115 of the international service organization's general office employees will be housed in the new million dollar structure. From this building 4600 U. S. and Canadian Kiwanis Clubs will be serviced.

The move into the Kiwanis International Building is the final step in a five-year program of finance, design and construction on the part of Kiwanis. Every Kiwanis member contributed financially to the project. According to International President Kenneth B. Lohead of Toronto, Ontario, "the completion of this beautiful new building is proof positive of the confidence in Kiwanis' future, on the part of all 258,000 Kiwanis members whose generosity and hope for the future made the building a possibility. Further, it reaffirms the belief of Kiwanians everywhere that our organization stands on the communities in which we live."

The new building is constructed of masonry, marble, structural metal and glass. It was designed to express the spirit of Kiwanis—and to provide the best possible facilities for service to Kiwanis clubs and their members. It represents the fourth home office which Kiwanis has occupied in Chicago.

The building consists of three levels. It fronts on Erie street, a half block west of Chicago's famed "Magnificent Mile." A ground-level landscaped court and a parking area share the rear portion of the property. The new structure stands on a site formerly occupied by the home of the late Anita McCormick Blaine, granddaughter of the inventor of the reaper.

The Kiwanis International Building is air-conditioned throughout, fitted with modern lighting equipment, sound-deadening ceilings, and light, movable metal partitioning. In the reception foyer stands a 35 foot curved mosaic mural depicting Kiwanis' community service work. This is executed in Venetian tile. In front of the music is a halo-lighted ovaloid map of the North American continent (Kiwanis' current field of operations) with numerical lights indicating the scope of Kiwanis outreach.

A beautifully-appointed Past President's Room, a Board Room paneled in curly California redwood, men's and women's lounges, and a small accommodation employee's luncheon are also features of the new building.

Unusual Program Is Arranged for Next IMA Meeting

Another outstanding program is in store for members of the Warren Industrial Management Association, affiliated with the YMCA, when they meet on Monday April 13th, for a dinner at 6:30 p. m.

The subject to be discussed is very much in order at this time, "Machine with a Brain." So many organizations are now going into the electronic card system.

C. E. Kittle, Jamestown, N. Y., International Business Machine Representative for this area will speak and give a demonstration on the latest use of punch cards and other automatic recording devices.

In 1958 Mr. Kittle moved to Jamestown as Sales Representative for the International Business Machines for this area. Robert W. Newman, president, states he feels the Warren I. M. A. is extremely fortunate in securing a man with such background on such a timely subject.

Reservations should be made by Friday noon April 10 with either the plant governor or the YMCA office. Plant Governors, Committee Chairman and Officers will hold their meeting on Monday April 6 at 2:00 p. m. It is most important that each of the above be present.

River Crests Just Below Flood Stage

Rain swollen Allegheny and Conewango tributaries returned to near-normality this morning despite light showers today.

Allegheny River crested at 12.2 feet about 7 p. m. last evening. Reading at 7 this morning was 11.8. Flood stage is 14 feet.

Low lying areas along Conewango are still under water but the Creek is slowly dropping. Rain in New York state sent the Conewango spilling over into farm and cottage land in the Warren-Russell area.

An extended forecast says near normal temperatures Saturday with a few showers in northern portion.

Tackle Busters For Chapman Dam Waters

Fish Warden Ken Corey said today that 45 "tackle busters" will be stocked in Chapman Dam next Wednesday.

Corey related that the fish, 45 20-inch rainbows, will be added to the 3,000 rainbow trout stocked in the lake Tuesday morning. The final stocking comes one week from opening day.

The truck will arrive in Clarendon at 2 p. m., and all interested persons are invited to be on hand for the stocking at the area's state-operated recreation center.

Ken said they are "the size and type that really give battle when hooked!"

Balding Canadian Leading Field in Masters' Open

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Since the Masters Golf Tournament was born 25 years ago, every champion has borne the imprint "made in U.S.A." This could be the year for an imported brand.

As the star-spangled field swung into the second round today, a short, balding Canadian, Stan Leonard, was two strokes out in front with a three-under-par 69. Four overseas players were within four shots of first place.

Peter Thomson of Australia, holder and four-time winner of the British Open crown, and Spain's amazing Angel Miguel were bracketed with three U.S. pros at 72. Gary Player of South Africa and Big Dave Thomas of Wales were among nine men tied at 73.

After a frustrating day of early rain and shifting winds, the run for one of the game's most coveted titles was still wide open but the foreign threat never was stronger.

The best an outsider ever has done in this event came last year when Leonard tied Ken Venturi for fourth, two strokes back of Arnold Palmer.

Leonard, 44, six times professional champion of his country, had the luck and patience where others failed Thursday and there lies the story of his remarkable round under extremely difficult conditions.

Two strokes back of Leonard came the defending champion, Arnold Palmer of Lionier, Pa., red hot Jackie Burke Jr., of Houston and Chandler Harper, a balding club manufacturer from Portsmouth, Va., who has played in only two tournaments this year.

Thomson and Miguel, the latter the surprise individual winner in the Canada Cup matches at Mexico City last year, were bracketed with the reigning National Open champion, Tommy Bolt, and two touring pros. Jay Hebert and Gene Littler, all tied at 72.

In the 73 list with Player and Thomas were Ben Hogan, who had bogies on three of the last five holes; Art Wall, Billy Maxwell, Mike Souchak, Dick Mayer, and two well-known amateurs, Chuck Kocsis of Royal Oak, Mich. and Bill Hyndman III of Arlington, Va.

Grayson Picks Pirates To Win NL Title; Yanks--Ho-Hum -- in American

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEA Sports Editor

Picking the winners of major league races is like walking a tightrope blindfolded or betting on a colt in Kentucky Derby winter book.

It's a long way to go and in baseball a key trade can be made, a star may be injured and pitchers develop sore arms.

But this is the time of year when all baseball writers worth their salt must stick out their necks so people can throw rocks at them when the last shot is fired, this trip on Sept. 27. That's the risk the handicapper must take, so this is the way one sees the clubs finishing in the fall:

McClintock Holds East To 34-33 Washing

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEA Sports Editor

A close 34-33 contest was won by McClintock of Gra-Y action Thursday when they battled East street in YMCA. East made a definite attempt to whittle down the winners' bulge.

McClintock had East 16-8 and of first quarter, but East closed the gap to 24-16 at the half. They pulled ahead in second quarter and dominated scoring, but not enough to overcome a one-point McClintock edge.

Crocia blazed the mesh for winners with 19 points. Lucia followed with 8, Pace sank 4, Holcomb 2 and Simmons 1. For East, Albaugh's 12 points was the leader with Rudolph following with 10, Wolfe had 9 and Smith 2.

Logart Has High Stakes in Scott Rematch Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Isaac Logart still has designs on the world welterweight championship, so he's fully aware of the personal stakes in his 10-round rematch tonight with young Charley Scott.

Logart, one of Cuba's more skilled exports to U.S. prizefighting, met Scott in what generally was regarded as a warmup at New York three weeks ago.

Logart, left-hooking veteran of 72 fights, was a 3-1 favorite. What happens? Scott, an unfamiliar 22-year-old Philadelphia, wins by a split decision.

Anyone interested may see what happens this time by turning in Friday night for this nationally televised contest (NBC, 10 p. m. EST) from Capitol Arena.

Logart is again the favorite, but by 8 or 9 to 5.

The earlier decision over Logart represented Scott's 20th victory against nine defeats. It was the 12th loss for the 35-year-old Cuban, who has won 55 and had 11 draws. More devastating, it cost him standing in the welterweight ratings.

Spy From Office Hints Gym Show To Strike Up Fan Satisfaction

Take a tip from a birdy—ton't miss the gym show next Thursday and Friday in Beaty gym.

Peering around corners and a multitude of earnest workers, we were able to catch an exciting glimpse of some acts in the show last evening.

Second annual show sponsored by physical education department of Warren High School, anyone interested in gymnastics, sports or just enjoy watching a group of high school students putting forth their magnificent best, are sure to be pleased with this season's presentation.

A complete sell-out was experienced last year, qualifying a two-night performance this season. Only 600 tickets will be allotted for each show and early word from directors say a surprising number of tickets have been purchased.

Many new features have been added, done so only through the cooperation and desire to do well and expand on part of the students. Gymnasts work hard on their act until it is perfected.

Considering gymnastics suffered a 15-year absence from Warren scene, recent work in this department has the activity fast becoming a permanent fixture on WHS sports list.

Many veterans from the show last year will be participating in the activities next week. Seasoned gymnasts improve quality of the show and serve as an outstanding example for first year students. Just to prove what interest is constructive, many seniors who graduated last June and were presented in the first gym show last year, have been on the workout scene in Warren High and Beaty gym past few weeks.

Background for the theme, "Forward with Fitness," program and excerpts of various acts will be carried on these sports pages in the next week.

To assure a seat, there being no reserve tickets, fans, parents and friends are reminded tickets may be purchased from any participating member, instructors Phil Putnam, Joe Massa, Ed MacLaughlin and Hal Miller. Proceeds will go directly to physical education department, to continue the purchase of modern, easy to work with equipment.

We witnessed a rough performance and thoroughly enjoyed it.

Casey Stengel isn't doing too much talking these days about his New York Yankee pitching staff. He doesn't have to—their actions are speaking louder (and possibly clearer) than could his words.

With the season getting into full swing a week from today, the World Champions are getting Grade-A performances from all of their expected starters. The only possible leak in the Yankee dike that is expected to hold back the American League contenders, is the sudden back injury to first baseman Bill Skowron.

In the last five days, Stengel has gotten top-flight performances from Tom Sturdivant, Bobby Shantz, Art Ditmar, Don Larsen, Bob Turley, Jim Coates and Whitey Ford.

Ford went eight innings Thursday, beating the St. Louis Cardinals, and scattered nine hits.

In other exhibition games Thursday, the Boston Red Sox won the Cactus League title with a 4-2 victory over San Francisco, the Cleveland Indians knocked off the MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles continue to pound the ball hard in exhibition games.

Baltimore made 17 hits Thursday night in their 8-6 loss to the Philadelphia Phillies, giving them 63 hits in the last four games.

Rookie Willie Tasby and veteran Gus Triando extended their hot streaks with three hits apiece, while Bob Nieman knocked in two runs with a double and a homer.

Part III—Infield
If anything is set on 1959 Pirates, it is the infield. Starting infield—excluding first base—will be Don Hoak, Dick Groat and Bill Mazeroski, from left to right.

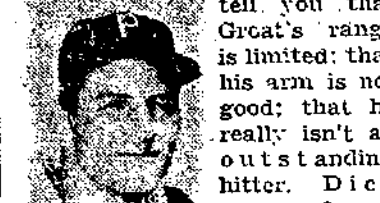

Hoak, acquired from Cincinnati in the Frank Thomas deal, is a hustler from the word GO! Hoak is a fast man and can make all the plays required of a third baseman. He's an "old" player, too—who's in the lineup with injuries that would keep the average player on the bench. And he's no slouch with a bat in his hands, either.

Moving over to shortstop, there's team captain Dick Groat. Playing with Hoak on his right should make Groat even better this year. When Thomas played third, Dick had to move to his right to better cover the hole between short and third.

Groat

Patterson Could Earn Cool Million in Next Four Bouts

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "This is great news. I'm a fighter and I want to fight. The more the better."

So said heavy-weight champion Floyd Patterson when told that a four-fight program had been lined up for him in the next 19 months. If he wins them all he could earn upwards of a million dollars (before taxes and manager's cut) before Nov. 1, 1960.

Definitely on Floyd's busy schedule are the defenses against England's Brian London at Las Vegas, May 1 and against Sweden's Ingemar Johansson, undefeated European champion, at Yankee Stadium, June 25.

Beyond these two are title defenses against opponents still to be picked. The London fight and the two after Johansson are part of a three-fight package with NBC television.

Patterson said his manager had not informed him yet of the four-fight program.

The manager, elusive Cus D'Amato, was so busy that he didn't attend two press conferences in which the Las Vegas fight was confirmed and the date and ball park for the Johansson fight were announced.

Horse Race Bill Referendum May Get on the Ballot

HARRISBURG (AP) — Supporters of a controversial horse race referendum bill today faced the prospect of a photo finish in efforts to put the proposal on the May 19 primary ballot.

The measure is in position for possible House action next week. It has been approved by the Law and Order Committee. It would permit a referendum on whether gamblers betting should be legalized in Pennsylvania.

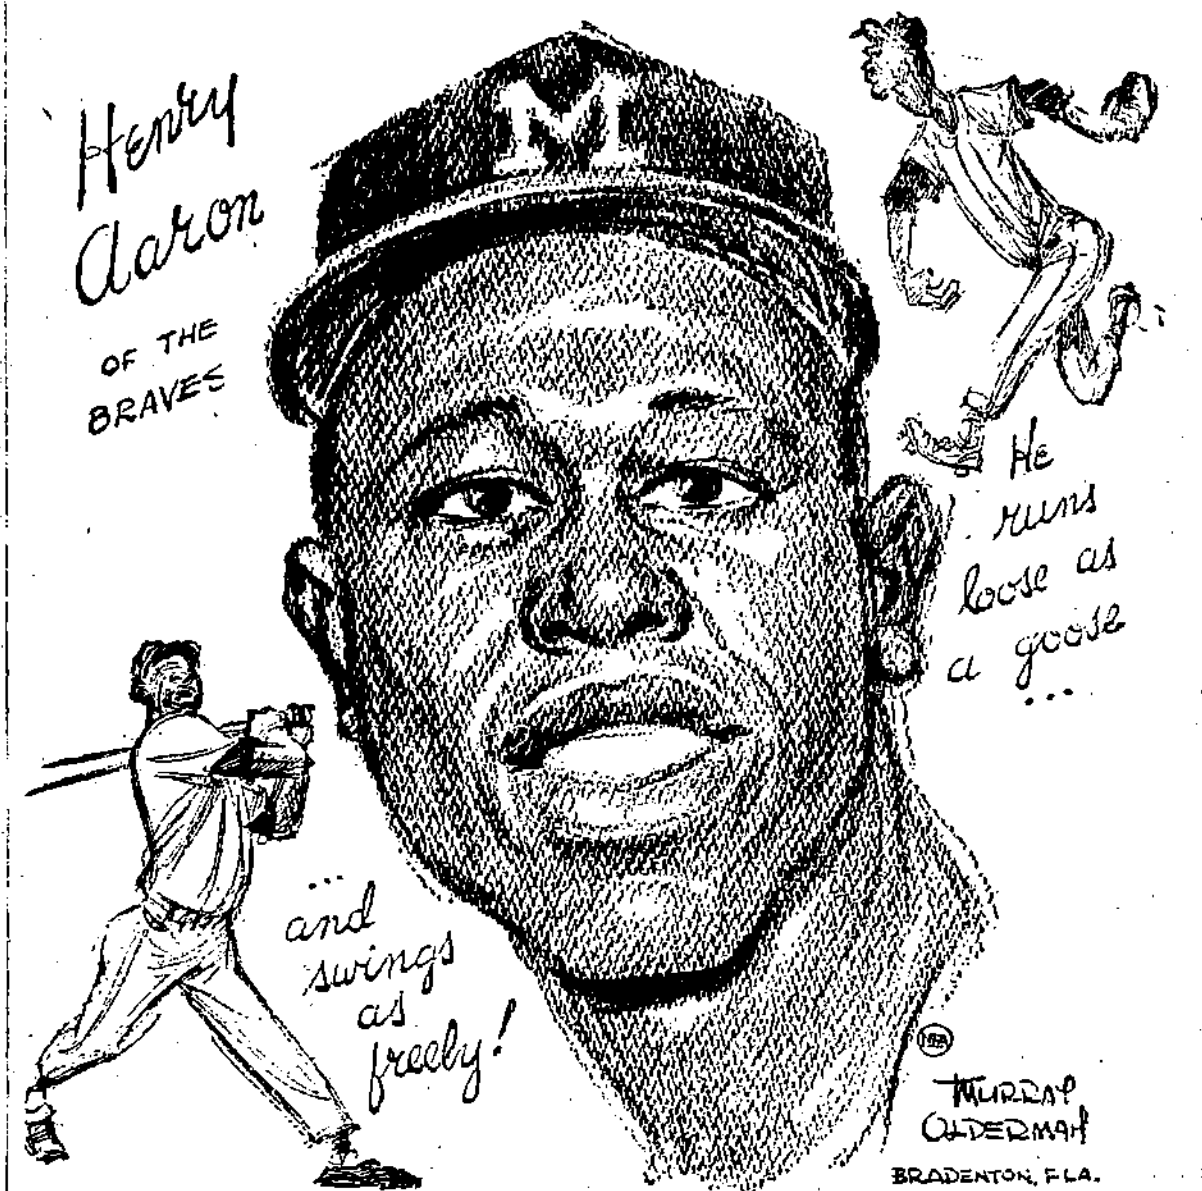

But quick action will be needed in the next two weeks to get the bill out of the House and Senate and on Gov. Lawrence's desk. He has indicated he would sign such a measure if it passed the Legislature. Similar proposals were defeated in previous years.

Albert Eberman, head of the State Elections Bureau, said Thursday there is no actual deadline set by law for including a question on the election ballot.

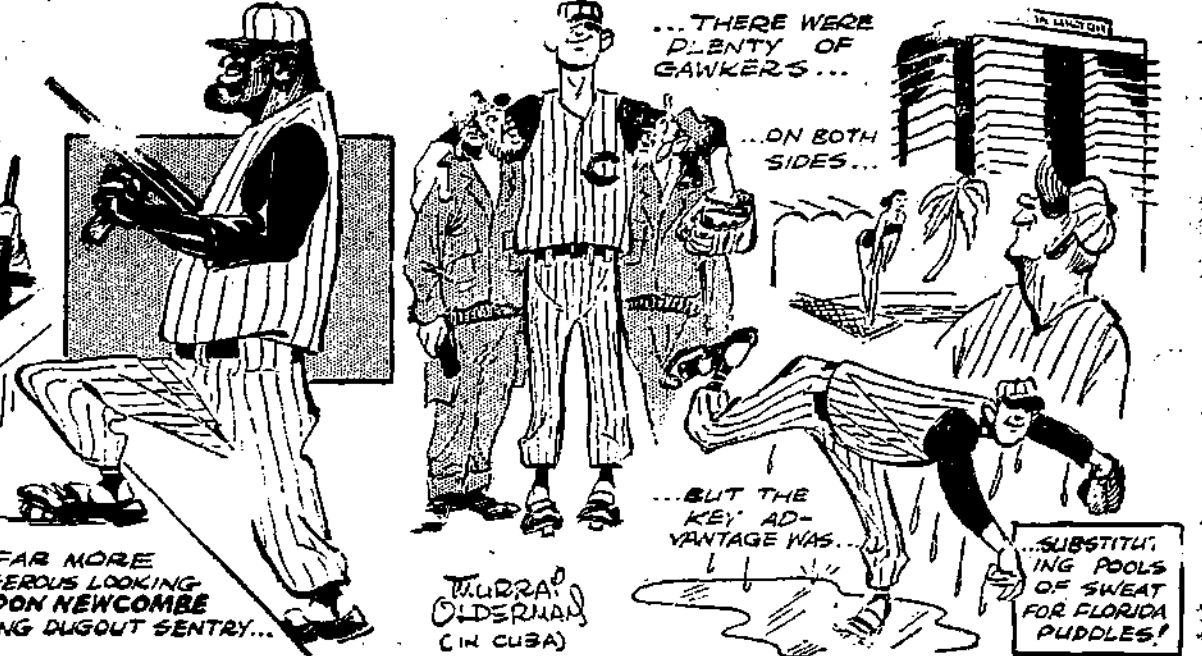

He added, however, that the realities of the matter boiled down to whether there would be sufficient time in which to prepare the ballots for a vote on the issue.

One lawmaker, who asked not to be identified, estimated there would be enough time if the bill was passed and signed by Lawrence by April 15.

Utilizing every available inch of space in the large Beatty cafeteria area, Chairman Mark Bevevino and his Jaycee committee have assigned areas to the various displays, and each will have something new and different to show. Bell Telephone, for example, will be putting on public display their new dial system, and with Warren about to experience the change-over to Randolph, many questions can be answered right on the spot.

Highlight of Saturday's portion of the show will be the awarding to some lucky person of a Sylvania Television set. Registration at the door is all that is essential, and the drawing will be held on Saturday.

The set was pictured in the Warren Times-Mirror on Friday, March 27, and the Jaycee committee has assured one and all that this is a fine set and a handsome prize.

Jaycees appreciate the co-operation shown by local industry and take this opportunity to thank the following for entering the big affair: Sylvania, Bell Telephone, Warren Components, United Refining, Allegheny Valve, Berenfield Barrel Works, Manufacturer's Light and Heat, Warren TV Corporation, Anderson Baking, Deluxe Metal, InterElectric, North Penn Pipe and Supply, Pennsylvania Gas, Warren Concrete Products, National Forge, and Pennsylvania Electric.

Without their cooperation the show would never have been staged. It is to their credit that they want the public to know more about what is made in Warren, and what keeps the living standard in the area as high as we now enjoy it.

When? Tonight 6 p. m. to 10 p. m.; Saturday 2 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Episcopal Rector To Present "Jazz Mass"

NORWALK, Conn. (AP) — Can cool jazz prove that Christianity is not old-fashioned?

An Episcopal rector here thinks so. His congregation will hear the "Jazz Mass" Sunday.

The Rev. Anthony P. Treasure, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, explained that it was written a few years ago by a British rector for his congregation.

It is rarely heard in American churches. The Rev. Mr. Treasure said he wants to present it once, primarily for the younger members of his congregation.

Asked to describe the mass, he said it is "what you might call cool jazz."

State P.T.A. Supports Bill Providing for Non-Partisan Election of School Board

Warren Times-Mirror:

We would deeply appreciate it if you could publish the attached statement, or if necessary part of it, regarding the non-partisan election of school directors. The Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers are supporting Senate Bill No. 211 which was referred to the Senate Committee on Education on February 9.

We urge citizens to write the members of this Committee and request favorable action. Contact your own Senator or Representative promptly and ask for their support.

Chairman of the Senate Committee on Education is Paul L. Wagner and Vice-Chairman is Edward J. Kessler.

Thank you for publishing the statement.

Very truly yours,
Richard A. Sealise
President, Lacy PTA
Warren, Penna.

The school board member is an extremely important public officer at the local level. Individuals who serve on boards of school directors serve the ideal of universal education, represent the power of the state in educational matters, and provide for the educational needs of children and youth in the school system.

The method by which a community chooses its school directors is important for good schools. School directors should be free from partisan politics. There are a number of state wide organizations very much interested in public education which have gone on record in favor of the election of school board members on nonpartisan ballots to assure this freedom from partisan politics.

The Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers is one of these organizations. Others which have taken a strong stand in favor of this issue are the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, the Penna. State Education Association, the Penna. State School Directors Association, and the Penna. Association of Chief School Administrators.

The Legislation Program for 1959 of the Penna. Congress includes under "Action Items" a statement, "We shall stimulate interest in the value of this legislation and press for its enactment."

This statement anticipated the introduction of legislation in the 1959 session of the General Assembly requiring the election of school directors on nonpartisan ballots. Senate Bill No. 211 which was introduced in the Senate on February 9, by Senator Frank Ruth, Democrat of Berks County and Senator Frank Koprivier, Republican of Allegheny County, provide for this principle and is being supported by the Penna. Congress of Parents and Teachers through its 2500 Local Units with a total membership of nearly 600,000.

PTA leaders advance the following reasons for the enactment of legislation requiring the election of school directors on nonpartisan ballots:

It would be a specific step in the direction of removing consideration of education matters from politics.

It would mean that highly capable citizens who are members of a minority party in a school district would have an opportunity to be elected as school board members.

The personal qualifications of primary consideration by the voters instead of political party membership.

It would encourage capable and community-minded citizens who have no interest in partisan politics, to seek this office.

It would discourage the practice of political party leaders to use school board membership as a stepping stone to other political offices.

It would largely remove the possible obligation on a school board director to a political party which might effect his judgement or vote.

It would reduce the possibility of unqualified individuals "riding into office" as a school director with the popular political party.

It would assure more efficient and effective long range public school administration since the uncertainties of political party change would be largely removed.

The Pennsylvania Congress leadership is taking advantage of every opportunity to stimulate interest in the value of their legislation and to press for its enactment.

Four Navy Frogmen Are Headed for New Record

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Four Navy frogmen today bettered the 41-hour record for underwater endurance and hoped to remain submerged for 48 hours.

The four broke the old record at 5:07 a. m. in the indoor, heated swimming pool they had entered Wednesday at 12:06 p. m.

But the man who inspired the endurance trial had to watch from the rim of the pool. A faulty aqualung system forced Robert W. McKee, 33, topside after 17½ hours in the water.

McKee and the other four entered the pool at 12:06 p. m. Wednesday with an announced goal of two days — seven hours longer than the present record.

The man overseeing the below-water marathon, Lt. (jg.) James B. Wilson, said the key to the success was "the amount of sleep they're getting." He said Robert T. Gallagher, at 21 the youngest of the four in the water, "probably is getting more sleep down there than he would be outside."

Others under water were Eugene S. Tamm, Charles R. Watson and Martin G. Mogk.

Vaccine for Common Colds Believed Near

CHICAGO (AP)—An expert today predicted a vaccine that will prevent from 60 to 70 per cent of all common colds probably will be available within the next two years.

Dr. Thomas G. Ward, professor of virology at the University of Notre Dame, said he believes a vaccine can be developed against "an acceptable proportion of the common colds."

He said 75 to 80 per cent of common colds are caused by a group of viruses or a group of bacteria of the streptococcus type.

Vaccines made from dead or tamed viruses can be injected into the body and develop resistance against viruses.

Businessman Mistaken for One of FBI's Most Wanted

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A business trip turned into a near nightmare Thursday night for a life insurance company executive who was mistaken for police for one of the FBI's 10 most-wanted fugitives.

"It wasn't too pleasant. I'll tell you," said Truman Pennell of Wichita Falls, Tex., as he left police headquarters. A frantic manhunt had led to his arrest.

Police believed he was Frank Lawrence Spreng, 29, the flying bank robber who has been on the FBI's most wanted list since Sept. 10, 1935.

Pennell, 36, was arrested after his four-passenger plane, which matched the description of one in which Spreng has been hopping about the country, crashed nearby.

He and his pilot, Jimmie Lynn Hamilton of Columbia, S.C., left the crash scene with S Sgt. and Mrs. Paul E. Pearson who offered to take them in their car to the Little Rock Air Force Base hospital.

On the way Pennell and Hamilton decided they were not hurt badly and would drive into Little Rock.

They were on their way when police, armed with shotguns, stopped them.

Warned that Spreng would be armed and dangerous, police officers took no chances and ignored Pennell's protests until FBI agents assured police their prisoner was not Spreng.

Texas Tornado Claims Life of Seventh Victim

HILLSBORO, Tex. (AP)—Lollie Watson, 78, injured Tuesday night when a tornado slashed through Bynum, south of here, died Thursday night.

Mrs. Watson suffered internal and severe leg injuries in the north central Texas storm.

Her death brought the toll in Texas from the twisters at Bynum and nearby Vaughan to seven.

Mrs. Garnet Can of Bynum remained in a local hospital in critical condition.

Conspiracy Case Of Gangster Is in Hands of the Jury

NEW YORK (AP) — The narcotics conspiracy case of underworld chief Vito Genovese and 15 other defendants was in the hands of a federal court jury today after a three-month trial.

The jury of seven women and five men was locked up in a hotel Thursday midnight.

Judge Alexander Bicks delivered an 8½-hour charge of 30,000 words before giving the case to the jury. He stressed that the case of each defendant must be considered individually.

The prosecution depicted Genovese, 61, as the "control man" of a multimillion-dollar ring that brought in narcotics from Europe, Cuba, Puerto Rico and Mexico.

The defense described him as a legitimate, $25-a-week business executive.

Genovese, a resident of Atlantic Highlands, N.J., has had many brushes with the law but never has been convicted of a crime.

Authorities list him among the 60-odd underworld figures and associates who attended the conclave at Apalachin, N.Y., Nov. 14, 1957. Officials also have called him a leader of the Mafia, the international crime and terror band that had its ancient roots in Sicily.

In the last decade the cancer cure rates have gone up 32 per cent. That means 38,000 additional lives saved yearly. But the American Cancer Society says 75,000 more could be saved by earlier diagnosis and treatment.

A SLAVE FOR MODERN MAN — This robot "handy man" is deft enough to heat the children at their own game. Developed by GE in Schenectady, N.Y., it will be placed behind seven-foot-thick concrete walls to handle radioactive material. Engineer Ralph Moser operates the controls at left. Though far stronger than a man, its mechanical hands can delicately pluck the petals from a daisy.

BRIGHT IDEA—Tom Cureton fires a gun which flashes as well as reports at Occidental's dual meet at Stanford. The closure shows the simple mechanism by which the circuit to the flash bulb is closed as the hammer strikes the cartridge, allowing contestants and timers instant knowledge of when an event starts. Cureton, a veteran at sending runners away, says track timing done entirely by the sound of a gun can be woefully inaccurate. Many officials agree.

The history of Britain is obscure until the Roman invasions of the first century B.C. when the island was brought into contact with the continent. At the time, the inhabitants, called Britons, spoke various Celtic dialects, farmed and used iron for tools and weapons. During the 300 years England was a Roman province, cities were built with baths and theaters and long, straight roads to join them.

Shapely Sheath Styles Are Here

Fashions from Dallas indicate that designers in the Southwest have in mind the creation of clothes that glorify the figure. The costume (left) as done by Ike Clark combines a form-fitting imported linen dress with a brief, slightly shaped jacket. Dress is beige while jacket is beige and geranium. The afternoon sheath (center) by Herman Marcus is cotton lace molded to the figure. Three rows of bias banding are finished with flat bows. White cotton georgette is used by Charles Dickey for an afternoon dress (right) with obi sash in dotted brocade. Skirt is soft and full.

DALLAS—(NEA)—The way of thinking in this southwestern city is that women should be shapely. So Dallas designers are giving them a whole series of rounded sheath dresses done in princess, belted or jacketed styles. The shirtwaist dress is back, too, better than ever and prettier because it's taken on a new look through widened collars and puffy sleeves. Waistline emphasis is achieved through obi sashes, cummerbunds, midriff insets and seaming. All of these aid in creating a tiny-waisted, fragile look. Dallas is a sophisticated city filled with hospitable and active people. They entertain on the slightest pretext and in the grand manner. Their clothes reflect their own way of life even though their designers create for the whole country. Their play clothes show the influence of Mexican colors and their patio dresses borrow the colors of the Kabuki theater in Japan, African primitive earth colors and the subtle desert colorings of the great Southwest. In Dallas, the patio dress is worn in simple versions for morning coffee and in luxurious, glittering fabrics for cocktails, dinner and dancing. Visitors to Dallas are so intrigued by these dresses that they invariably bring home one or two. Some are done in a very fine pleated white cotton georgette and heavily banded in silver or gold embroidery. But by and large, Dallas is known for young, sophisticated, dashing clothes for around-the-clock wear.

Combined Concert Is Much Enjoyed By Crowd of 600

Laying up to all advance notices, the Brown University Glee Club, in combined concert with Warren Barbershoppers, last evening royally entertained some 600 persons at Beaty school auditorium. The versatile and outstanding program of songs was well received and several local homes already miss the presence of Glee Club guests, who were housed by hospitable residents. Directed by David Laurent and David Kunzel, Jr., The Glee Club is rounding out a hectic week's tour, having come to Warren from Chicago where the group appeared. Brie was also included in the tour with Glee Club singers appearing this evening in Pittsfield, Mass. A final concert, before returning to Providence, will be held at Schenectady, N. Y. Saturday. Aided and abetted by the popular Warren Barbershop chorus, directed by Earl Erickson, and the equally delightful quartets, the program was pronounced an entertainment highlight in the community with proceeds earmarked for travel expenses to the International Convention at Chicago, in July when local barbershoppers will again compete for top honors. Considerable post-concert courtesies were extended to the participating groups following the performance. DAIRYMEN'S MEETING Sugar Grove Local Dairymen's League will meet tomorrow evening at 8:00 in the Warren County Dairy recreation rooms. Simon Gortor of Holland, who is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Weiler, Yankee Bush road, will show slides of his native homeland showing how the Dutch rescued land from the sea. WARREN COUNTY FIREMEN

Warren County Active Volunteer Firemen will meet at Warren State Hospital Thursday, April 16. Members are advised to note the change from the usual second Thursday to third Thursday for this important session.

LIVING LONGER
The defeat of many diseases has increased life expectancy 22 years since the turn of the century. Cancer, too, will be brought under control by science, according to the American Cancer Society, which in the past 13 years has spent more than $67,000,000 seeking the answers.

LAST MONTH - IN HISTORY

TV KNOWS NO BOUNDARIES—Television is sweeping the world—east and west, on both sides of the Iron Curtain. Newsmap above gives a graphic picture of the pattern of TV coverage throughout the world. While the U.S. and Europe are almost entirely blanketed, other areas are also showing rapid growth. In all, says the U.S. Information Agency, 49 over 100 countries had television in 1958, including eight in the Communist bloc. The number of stations of all kinds rose from 447 to 739 during the year. There were almost 23 million sets in use (excluding U.S. and Canada), 6.5 million over 1957.

Bloodmobile at Youngsville On Next Wednesday

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at Youngsville Methodist church from 11:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. Wednesday, April 8. This is the collective center for the areas of Sugar Grove, Lottsville, Pittsfield, Garland, Tidoute, Irvine and Youngsville. With a quota of 150 pints of blood, there is an urgent need for new donors. Persons are urged to give if they are in good health, weight 110 pounds or more, and are between the ages of 21 and 59 years (between 18 and 21 with parental consent). Donors will experience no ill effects and resistance to disease will not be lowered. At the small cost of time alone, donors will be giving the gift of life to others. No one knows when blood plasma may be needed in their own family and it gives one a very reassuring feeling to know he has done his part.

AUXILIARY POLICE NOTES
At a recent meeting of the Warren County Auxiliary Police Association it was decided to hold regular monthly meetings during the summer months in different outlying townships. It is hoped that the plan will create additional interest in Association activities. The next regular meeting will be held Wednesday, April 8 at 7:30 p. m. in Youngsville Fire Hall, Youngsville. Rex Agnew, Youngsville police chief, will be guest speaker.
